St. Joseph's Hospital is the Southern Tier's leading healthcare center staffed by some of the finest physicians in the world. But, when they wanted some advice on their Website they came to Pixel Head, the area's leading Website specialist.

Our prescription included an affordable, professionally designed site built with BlueLava, our easy-to-use content management software. BlueLava allows anyone to easily update and manage their new site themselves.

If you're interested in a healthy, fully-functional Website for your company or business, contact Jim Schiefen by email at jim@pixelhead.net or call 607-732-4540.
